

MURDER OF MAY 17, 1919, MAY BE NEAR SOLUTION

GREECE IN GRIP OF REVOLT: KING RESIGNED REIGN

Part of Navy Mutinied and Seized Several Battleships.

London, Sept. 27. — (By the Associated Press)—Greece is in the grip of a revolutionary movement, and King Constantine is reported to have abdicated.

At least part of the navy has gone against the government and several war ships and transports manned by revolutionaries are believed to be advancing on the capital from the Aegean islands, where the revolt originated.

Direct advices from Athens are lacking, indicating that censorship is in effect, but the report of Constantine's abdication has persisted since the last dispatch, telling of the cabinet's resignation and the approach of a crisis, which was received late last night.

Officer Heads Revolt

The revolutionary movement is headed by an officer named Gonatas, variously described as a general and a colonel, who organized the soldiers on the Island of Mytilene and Chios, off the Smyrna coast, to which they were removed following their crushing defeat by the Turkish nationalists. An order for the demobilization of these troops is said to have been the immediate cause of their mutiny. The revolt quickly spread to the navy and many of the warships refused to answer queries sent out by the admiralty. An airplane appeared over Athens and showered the city with pamphlets signed by Gonatas and demanding the resignation of the government and the abdication of the king. This created turmoil in the capital, and crowds surged through the streets and about the public buildings. A large number of troops mutinied in Saloniki, but this development is said to have taken the form of a military movement organized in Thrace against the Turks.

Official circles here believe former Premier Venizelos has had no part in the revolt. Because of his importance, however, and his large personal following in Greece, it is pointed out that he will hardly be able to avoid figuring in the subsequent developments.

London, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—A Central News despatch from Athens, time 8:30 o'clock, this morning, says King Constantine signed an abdication decree without reservation.

London, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Reuters Limited says authoritative news has been received of the abdication of King Constantine of Greece.

Cabinet Resigns to Avoid Civil War

Athens, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—King Constantine has accepted the resignation of the cabinet, which quickly followed the reception of two ultimatums from the cruiser Lemnos.

(The foregoing despatch is dated in Athens today, but the hour of filing was not indicated.)

In accepting the resignation the king said he entirely put aside any idea of resistance which would bring, as a result, civil war in Greece.

The crown prince has abandoned his proposed journey to Roumania for the royal marriage.

Greek Fleet Goes Over to Revolvers

London, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The Greek fleet has gone over to the revolutionaries, who announce that every officer and member of the crews is wholly with them, according to a Central News despatch from Athens. The movement which is headed by Colonel Gonatas, is making headway in all directions.

Battleships Leave to Strike at Athens

London, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—A number of Greek warships and transports manned by revolutionaries have left the Island of Mytilene off the coast of Smyrna and are proceeding towards Athens, according to messages from authoritative sources received here.

More Turk Troops Invade Chanak Zone

London, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—More Turkish Nationalist troops have drifted into the Chanak zone, according to official advices from Constantinople today. This is not regarded in authoritative quarters, however, as aggravating the situation much, and the opinion was expressed (Continued on Page Two.)

ABDICATES?

Reports from London this morning were to the effect that King Constantine and Queen Sophia of Greece have been forced to abdicate because of the widespread discontent among the Greek people due to their troops' defeat by the Turks in Asia Minor and the critical conditions in Greece.

DECISION IN POULIN CASE SATURDAY MORN IS JUDGE'S PROMISE

Appeal is Certain as Both Sides Plan Harder Fight.

BULLETIN.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Dr. Albert Abrams, California specialist, has refused to make a private blood test to determine whether John Tiernan, Notre Dame law professor, is the father of his wife's baby boy, who Mrs. Tiernan says is the child of Harry Poulin, haberdasher, of South Bend, Ind.

Dr. Abrams' refusal to make the test became known today, following a conference with the Tiernans, who came to Chicago last night at the close of the hearing on the paternity case at South Bend to consult the California specialist. They brought the baby with them.

Dr. C. M. Morris, at whose home Dr. Abrams is staying, was authority for the statement for Dr. Abrams' refusal to take a part privately in the case. Dr. Abrams in declining to take part privately in the case said he would make a test only in connection with the court procedure, and then only with both Tiernan and Poulin submitting to the test.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—With hearings ended in the case of Harry Poulin, charged by Mrs. Augusta Tiernan with the paternity of her ten-month-old child, persons interested in the outcome were marking time today, awaiting the verdict of Judge Chester L. Ducomb, which is scheduled to be announced on Saturday morning. The hearings begun more than a week ago came to a close last night, following completion of the closing arguments by defending counsel.

Probability of a woman in the position of Mrs. Tiernan, wife of a college professor, bringing before the public the story of her relations with another man, unless the acts actually occurred was emphasized by Prosecutor Jellison in summing up the case. He asserts that it had been shown that Mrs. Tiernan's sole motive in bringing the court action was to make Poulin acknowledge the parentage of his own child.

Mrs. Tiernan had "exiled herself from society," had "voluntarily relinquished her home, had deprived herself of her children, and the companionship of her husband, not for revenge or for money, but because her assertions are the truth and Harry Poulin must face the truth," the prosecutor said.

Defends Woman

Professor Tiernan has stood by his wife in this action, not for revenge, he continued, "but for the sake of justice." In concluding, Prosecutor Jellison said:

"We know that Mrs. Tiernan is not a woman to compose a monstrous fabrication—to perjure herself. The question before the court is 'who is the father of this child?' The evidence points to Harry Poulin."

In closing their case the defense attorneys argued that the plaintiff had some ulterior use for seeking revenge against Poulin and maintained that the prosecution had not established that the baby might not be Professor Tiernan's offspring. The attorneys attacked the testimony of Mrs. Tiernan that marital relations between her and Professor Tiernan had been broken off at the time of conception of the infant, and asserted that the plaintiff apparently had influenced her husband to support her in her charges. They emphasized the point that Professor Tiernan had at first accepted the child as his own.

Defense Charges Revenge

"The action of these two persons, coming into court to prove this child illegitimate—to label it so that it can be scorned by the world for the rest of its life," Attorney Swartz of the defense said, "is to satisfy Mrs. Tiernan's desire for revenge for Poulin's ignoring her."

It has been indicated by both sides that if the judge's decision is against them on Saturday, they will take the case to a higher court. Mr. and Mrs. Tiernan were said to have left here last night for Chicago to consult with Dr. Albert Abrams, San Francisco specialist, concerning a blood test to establish definitely the paternity of the child. The blood test, if decided upon, probably will be introduced as evidence if the case is appealed to a higher court.

KING CONSTANTINE'S REFUGE?

The Leeds home at Montclair, N. J., where King Constantine of Greece, by his sister-in-law, Princess Anastasia, formerly Mrs. William B. Leeds.

DO YOU KNOW?

(By Dixon Chamber of Commerce.)

The Grand Detour Plow Division of the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company succeeded the Grand Detour Plow Company July first, 1919. This business had its inception at a very early date. For many years it has been engaged in the manufacture of plows and other agricultural implements. It is inspiring to realize that right here, within a few miles of the city of Dixon was made the very first steel plow that was made in the world. At Grand Detour, Illinois, the enterprise, which later developed into the Grand Detour Plow Company, had its beginning and there the business was operated very successfully by various partnerships, until 1869, when it became necessary to move the machinery to Dixon, where railroad facilities had become established.

The partnership, Cummins, Noble & Dodge, dissolved in 1879 and formed the Grand Detour Plow Company, which was in continuous existence from 1879 to 1919, a period of forty years.

W. B. Brinton acquired a controlling interest in the business in 1905, and served as its president until the year of its dissolution. This business, so closely associated with the early history of Dixon and Grand Detour, and also of the surrounding country, was one of Dixon's first industries. Specializing in plows, it has reached a capacity of 36,000 plow bottoms per annum.

The present owners, the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company, whose main office and factory are located at Racine, Wisconsin, manufacture a complete line of steam engines, gas tractors, threshing machines, road machinery, hay balers, silo fillers and automobiles. At the local plant tractor plows, horse-drawn plows and tractor disc harrows are manufactured. The company has thirty-nine branch houses scattered over the United States and Canada, with complete sales organizations in every branch, foreign offices at Buenos Aires and Paris, and representatives in many other countries in both hemispheres.

Californians Lost Heavily on Marks

By Associated Press Leased Wire San Francisco, Sept. 27.—A canvass of bankers and brokers here made by the San Francisco Chronicle reveals that San Francisco people have lost at least $25,000,000 speculating in German marks. The same source estimates Californians have lost more than $100,000,000 as a result of the fall of the mark.

CITY TO INSIST STREETS CARS BE FENDER EQUIPPED

Action Taken By Commissioners Last Evening.

City Attorney E. E. Wingert will start action at once with a view of having all of the city street cars equipped with fenders, according to action taken at last evening's session of the city council. A section of the ordinance granting the street car company a franchise provides:

"The cars employed by said grantee, its successors or assigns, at all times must be provided with modern improved fenders down at all times when car is in use."

This action of the council was brought about as the result of the request conducted yesterday over the remains of 5-year-old Odessa Belknap, who was killed instantly Monday afternoon on Seventh street and Depot avenue. The motorman in charge of the car testified that none of the city cars operated in Dixon are equipped with fenders.

Banker Returns and Clears Up Alleged Deficit in Accounts

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Sept. 27.—David E. Carlson, former cashier of the Cottage Grove Avenue State Bank, missing ten days, cleared himself within an hour of his return of blame in what was reported to be a $100,000 deficit in the bank's accounts, according to H. S. Savage, state bank examiner.

"Investigation confirms Mr. Carlson's statement that when the bank was organized there was a misstatement over what constituted assets and liabilities of a former bank that had been taken over," Mr. Savage said.

In explaining his absence during the excitement over the reported "shortage," Carlson said he had been working hard for nine years and on leaving the bank departed on an automobile trip to get a little rest.

"As soon as I saw newspapers telling of the deficit, I got in touch with Mr. Savage and told him I would return immediately and help straighten out internal tangles in the bank's affairs. Everything is in satisfactory shape."

Weak Valve Caused Blast in Bank Bldg.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Theories that a bomb caused yesterday morning's explosion in the Illinois Merchants Trust Building injuring five men, have been disproved, according to an announcement by the fire attorney's office which laid the blame to a weak valve on the air compressor which blew up.

Robert Covert, operator of the compressor who was found behind his wrecked machine, remained in a critical condition with his eyesight apparently gone.

1924 CONVENTION OF LEGION LIKELY WILL COME TO THIS CITY

Campaign for Meeting Next Year to Bear Fruit in Future.

Danville defeated Dixon for the 1923 convention of the American Legion in the closing sessions of the convention at Rock Island Tuesday evening, but not until Dixon's fight had threatened to upset all the "dope" and send the meeting to this city.

With all the officers, State Commander, Senior Vice, Junior Vice and Chaplain being selected from the northern part of the state and the convention having been held in the central and northern part of the state the last two years it was only deemed fair by the convention committee of the American Legion to select the only southern city seeking the 1923 convention. This recommendation from the committee was accepted by the general convention on a vote of the general assembly.

Expect 1924 Meeting.

Art Handell and E. R. Oxman, delegates, felt confident that they have gotten a vote by districts Dixon would have landed the 1923 convention. Danville has tried for three years to land the state convention and with the fine showing by the Post No. 12 band and the publicity given Dixon this year there is no question in the minds of the Dixon delegates attending the convention that the 1924 convention will be held in Dixon. Post Commander T. J. Miller, Jr., was proud of the showing made by Post No. 12 and great credit is due him and H. S. Lynch for the manner in which the publicity received by Dixon was directed by them.

Although beaten in their fight for the 1923 convention the members of Dixon post feel that this city did not share so badly in the voting at Rock Island, for two former Dixon men were chosen to state offices. Charles W. Schick of Chicago's Naval post, who still claims Dixon as his home, was chosen State Commander, and Luther Joseph Longman, a native of Dixon well and favorably known here, was elected State Chaplain.

SETTLEMENT OF ALTON STRIKE NOT REALIZED

Men Turned Down Proposal of President of Railroad.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

The machinists at their meeting yesterday morning voted 150 to 50 not to accept it until some modifications were made.

The pipe fitters and sheet metal workers voted on the same proposition not to accept. The boiler makers and helpers will meet this morning at 9 o'clock at their hall and the Brotherhood of Car Men of America at 10 o'clock this morning, to take their votes.

The proposal of Mr. Bied is being analyzed by the various crafts and the clauses which require modification before being accepted, are being discussed and a request made to the management for such changes.

The requests of the men are being considered and it may be possible to announce an amicable adjustment of all the schedules in dispute today.

MAN IN MEMPHIS REPORTED TO HAVE ADMITTED KILLING MAN AND WOUNDING ANOTHER HERE

Report of Alleged Confession Recalls Finding of Gilberto Gonzales Shot Through Heart Near Cement Factory.

BULLETIN.

A telegram received at noon today at the sheriff's office, gave a clue to the victims of M. A. Coulter, railway engineer, who was about to be apprehended and for whom Sheriff Schoenholtz has gone to Memphis to question and probably bring back with him. The message stated:

"M. A. Coulter supposed to have been a locomotive engineer who killed one Mexican and shot another while employed as an engineer on a mine run."

Files of The Evening Telegraph and records at the court house disclose the fact that Gilberto Gonzales was shot through the heart some time during the night of May 17, 1919, and Ferraro Revo was seriously wounded but recovered. Gonzales' body was found lying near the cement culvert on the Dayton road near the cement plant by H. W. Harms of this city, who notified the sheriff. At that time it was thought that a third Mexican, known as "Mexican Pete" had been the assailant, but was never apprehended. Both Mexicans were employed at the cement plant and boarded in one of the old cement block houses which was conducted by Henry Maldonado. A few months after the shooting, Maldonado with his family left Dixon and returned to Mexico.

A murder mystery which the Dixon police and the sheriff's office are trying to fathom, developed late yesterday afternoon upon the receipt of a telegram from Chief J. B. Burney of the Memphis, Tenn., police department to Chief Van Bibber, police department here.

"Wire quick if you want man named M. A. Coulter for killing man about a year ago."

This was the information upon which the authorities, both city and county, were working when Sheriff Frank Schoenholtz left Dixon early this morning for Memphis to start an investigation in that city. Before leaving, however, the sheriff wired Chief Burney last night requesting that he arrest and hold Coulter pending the arrival of the officer from this county. He will arrive in Memphis early tomorrow morning to start his investigation with the assistance of the police chief of that city.

Last night Sheriff Schoenholtz received a response to his telegram to Chief Burney which stated that Coulter was not under arrest, but added that if he was wanted here, the Memphis police could possibly apprehend him and hold him until the Lee county official arrived. Word was immediately dispatched back to the southern city to arrest and hold the suspect.

Said to Have Confessed.

Immediately upon receipt of the word here an investigation was started by the Associated Press which brought the following information:

"Chief of police says woman reported to him that man now here, and that man under arrest, had admitted murder in Illinois. Dixon police have been asked as to truth of report before any arrest is made."

The above message is contradictory in that it states that the suspect is under arrest and again contradicts this statement. The police and sheriff are unable to affix any particular murder to Coulter, other than that he may have been a member of the gambling party at the Sam Starko resort near the cement plant a year ago last August in which William Coffey was murdered.

It is also possible, according to the authorities, that Coulter may have committed a murder, disposing of the body and that the case may not yet have come to light. Sheriff Schoenholtz will make a thorough investigation, upon his arrival in Memphis, providing that Coulter has been arrested and is in custody. In the meantime an effort is being made to secure answers to messages which will cast some light on the case.

Trusty Trained Dogs Then Made Get Away

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 27.—Ray Loyd, a trusty at the state penitentiary sentenced to five years for larceny, was assisting in training prison bloodhounds yesterday. The bloodhounds "caught" Loyd about five miles from the penitentiary and the trainer, who accompanied the dogs, got off his horse. Loyd mounted the animal and galloped away. The dogs seemed to think they were being worked overtime, anyway, they showed little pep in the second chase.

GOVERNOR WILL INSPECT COLONY HERE ON FRIDAY

Plans Investigation of All Institutions in the State.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 27.—Governor Small will during the next few weeks make a personal inspection of the state institutions with a view of seeing how they are being conducted and if expenses of maintaining them can be reduced. The Governor started his tour of inspection from Springfield at 11 o'clock this morning in his automobile, going first to Quincy, where he will inspect the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Home today.

From Quincy he will go to Watertown, where he will visit the State Hospital on Thursday, and from Watertown he will go to Dixon where he will visit the State Colony Friday. From Dixon he will return to his home in Kankakee. Next week, he said, he would visit the hospitals at Chester and Anna.

Governor Small is accompanied on his trip of inspection by Judge C. H. Jenkins, Director of the State Department of Public Welfare; L. H. Becher, State Superintendent of Charities; Victor McGroom, State Dietician and his son, Leslie Small.

"I expect, during the next few weeks," Gov. Small said, "to visit every state institution in the state and to see how the state charities are being cared for. I will look over the institutions and see how there can be a saving in expenses with a view of keeping appropriations down."

Beer No Lure to Modern Flies Cops Found Out Tuesday

Beer, moonshine and wine, valued at about $250 was destroyed at the police station late yesterday afternoon when it was dumped into the sewer. The big vault which for years has contained many bottles of brew, wine and liquor, good, bad and indifferent, was subject to a housecleaning and the contents of the bottles emptied in the sewer. Some of the beer, which was more than five years old, was used by the firemen in a fly trap. One of the firemen stated this morning that as a fly decoy, the beer was not a success, the flies coming into the world since prohibition went into effect, paying no attention to the beverage. A few veterans who have been housed in the city hall since B. V. D. (before the Volstead disaster) were enticed and met death.

PALMYRA BOY TELLS OF BENEFITS GAINED AT BOYS' FAIR SCHOOL

Howard C. Rutt Writes of Instruction at Springfield Fair.

The following article concerning the Boys' State Fair School, which he attended as one of Lee county's representatives, was written for publication by Howard C. Rutt, of Palmyra township:

An institution was established on the Illinois State Fair grounds in 1910 for the purpose of giving the more promising boys of Illinois the benefit of studying the State Fair in the best possible way. It gives them a view of the really worth-while things in life. This institution is called the Boys' State Fair School.

This school has prospered very successfully under the wise judgment of the managers until now it has from 170 to 200 delegates and about 60 tents. Mr. Mills was the founder of the school and through the carrying out of his wishes it has prospered. Mr. Booth is the principal now and is doing wonderful work.

The school is administered as follows: Two boys are chosen from each county in Illinois with the exception of Cook, which is entitled to eighteen boys. The County Superintendent, the President of the Farmers' Institute and the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors choose the boys. When the boys arrive at the grounds they are under the supervision of the principal, two army officers and the county superintendents. They are under military rule and go to classes as in any school.

Varied Courses.
The courses of study offered are as follows: Better Agriculture, Better Health, Opportunities and Responsibilities, Soil, Seed Corn, Progress in Road Building, Horticulture, Dairy Cattle, Dairy Accounting, Poultry, the Illinois Legislature, Live Stock, Etymology, Live Stock Marketing, and many other very important subjects.

I have quoted these directly from the program of 1922 so one can see the wide range of subjects given.

The instructors are the very best that can be obtained; most of them coming from the Illinois State College of Agriculture. There are none better.
One subject which interested me very much was "Soils." Farmers of Illinois and of practically all of the United States must pay more attention to their soil. Farmers must grow more legumes so as to increase the nitrogen supply in the soil. To grow legumes we must have a sweet soil or a non-acid soil. The only way to obtain this, if you don't already have it, is to use limestone, which corrects the acid. Raw rock phosphate should be used to increase the phosphorus supply in the soil which is necessary for high yields. A farmer should carry on a rotation of crops and the good of his soil. Some very good rotations are:

Crop Rotation.
1—Corn, corn, wheat, clover.
2—Corn, oats, wheat, clover.

In each case limestone should be applied when it can remain on the surface for some time at least one year and raw rock phosphate should be plowed under with the clover. It is well to have the soil tested before either is applied to see if it is necessary. Any one of these rotations, if operated properly, will keep the soil sweet and rich in fertility.

I think the Boys' State Fair School is a great organization for giving the boys a wider view of the really worth-while things in life. The military drill must not be forgotten, because I think it is largely responsible for the good and good conduct of the boys. I shall never forget the great benefits derived from the Boys' State Fair School and shall always do my best to help its great work along.

Can't Pay Teachers; Schools Are Closed

West Frankfort, Ill., Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Inability of the Dining and Frankfort townships to pay their salaries today caused 91 elementary school teachers to abandon their classes. As a result approximately 3,800 children were sent home for an unexpected vacation of undetermined duration. Not a sad face was noticeable among the hundreds of children as they trotted home.

The action of the teachers resulted from the defeat yesterday by the voters of a $64,000 bond issue designed to defray school expenses which have been accumulating and to pay teachers' salaries. The issue was defeated by a plurality of 633 votes. 3,357 votes were cast.

Supt. of Instruction Walter, in a statement emphasized that the teachers were not on strike, but merely quit work, as they "could not work and live without money."

CLOSE FRIEND OF HARDING VICTOR BY LARGE VOTE

Senator Frelinghausen Easy Winner in Primary.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Newark, N. J., Sept. 27.—U. S. Senator Joseph R. Frelinghausen, friend of President Harding, and one of the administration leaders in congress, was nominated by the republicans of New Jersey yesterday in a sweeping victory of more than two to one over George L. Record, a Jersey City lawyer.

The senator waged his campaign on two main issues, prohibition and the tariff. He did not discuss the soldier bonus against which he had voted. And he rarely answered Record's charge that he was sympathetic with monopolies.

At the November elections Senator Frelinghausen will fight it out at the polls with Governor Edward I. Edwards, the democratic nominee for U. S. senator. As Governor Edwards is the champion of the "wets," New Jersey voters expect a warm contest on the prohibition issue. Most of the republican congressmen who were opposed in yesterday's battle seemed today to have been victorious.

BARNET-STULTZ

Miss Ruth Barnett of this city and Harry Raymond Stultz, also of Dixon were married Saturday afternoon at the M. E. parsonage, Rev. A. S. Moore reading the marriage service. The young people were unattended. The bride wore a stunning brown traveling suit. Afterward they drove to Rockford to spend a brief honeymoon. They have returned to Dixon and will make their home at Jackson and Fourth street. They are receiving the congratulations of their many friends. The bride is a charming and popular girl and the bridegroom is an industrious and worthy young man.

CHURCH NOTES.

AT REYNOLDS SUNDAY.

For some years it has been the custom of the W. M. S. of Reynolds church to hold an annual rally day. This year we are very fortunate in securing Mrs. L. H. Saeger, wife of Bishop Saeger, for this occasion. Mrs. Saeger is an eloquent public speaker with a large acquaintance with the work of the church. Everyone will be delighted to hear her. She will speak at our regular services both morning and evening. The Woman's Missionary Society will have charge of the services and furnish the special music. An offering will be taken. Let us make this offering as large as possible.

Special efforts are being made during the next quarter to stimulate greater interest in the Sunday school. The men and women were divided into two competing groups for attendance. The attendance of the two groups will be registered every Sunday so that we can see the progress of both sides to keep our interest stimulated. The full details of the plan will be announced next Sunday. Let us all work for the progress of the church in this department with enthusiasm and zeal. The negative critic and the knocker are usually of little value to the church or the country as progressive citizens. But through faithful cooperation big things can be accomplished. If you have not been attending a Sunday school lately come with us and we will do you good, and you will help to make the community better. Our contest begins next Sunday morning. Come and get acquainted with the many interesting details of the quarter's plans. Sunday school begins at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Saeger speaks at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

PREDICTS LAW WILL PROHIBIT WALKOUTS AGAINST COMMUNITY

Elihu Root Says G. O. P. Will Soon Enact Such Statute.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Albany, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Early adoption by the Republican congress of laws prohibiting strikes which "cut off the supply of food or service necessary to the life of the community" and at the same time protecting the workman's liberty, was predicted by Elihu Root, temporary chairman, in his address before the Republican state convention today. Touching on the recent rail and coal strikes, Mr. Root said:

"So long as strikes were a contest between laborers and employers to secure for labor its fair share of the new wealth which has come to mankind through invention and discovery and application of science and the art of organization, the sympathies of the American public were with labor. When a strike becomes an attempt to coerce the public into taking action by cutting off the supply of food or service necessary to the life of the community, I am sure that public feeling goes the other way."

"I think that in this country we are gradually approaching the point where the law of the land will provide for distinguishing between the two kinds of strikes, and protecting the public against compulsion by threat of peril to life or of destruction to the machinery of civilization, and at the same time protect the workman's liberty to refuse to work and the workman's liberty to work. If we cannot come to that point then the American government of all the people, by all the people, for all the people, will fail, and a few will rule the many. Perhaps we are approaching that point as rapidly as is practicable and wise to attempt."

Praise for President
Declaring that the five things most needed when President Harding took office were an ending of "the autocratic method of government consented to for the purpose of carrying on the war, abolition of immensely extravagant scale of expenditures extraneous during the war, restoration of normal industrial production, establishment of international peace and convalescence from the condition of feverish excitement incident to the war," Mr. Root asserted the Harding administration had accomplished all these.

The President, he declared, "put an end to autocracy by refusing to be an autocrat, by selecting an able cabinet and being willing to take their advice and let them run their own departments—at the same time deciding inflexibly after taking counsel on matters upon which the chief executive was called to decide."

Mr. Root pointed to the President's handling of the rail and coal strikes as evidence of his work in bringing the nation back to normal industrial conditions, and cited the five-power conferences at Washington as evidences of his skill as a statesman in international affairs.

He defended congress against the charges of "do-nothingism," asserting the "true function of a legislative body is to discuss a multitude of projects, and refuse action on at least nine-tenths of them."

American Admiral to Constantinople

Paris, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Vice Admiral Andrew T. Long, U. S. N., commander of the American naval forces in European waters, has gone to Constantinople to direct the naval operations should any become necessary in participation with the foreign squadrons, it was stated here today.

Navy Dept. Says Long Will Do Nothing

Washington, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Paris news despatches announcing that Vice Admiral Long of the American navy had gone to Constantinople to direct possible "naval operations" were not understood in official circles here, where it was indicated that participation of American warships in any demonstration against the Turks was not a part of the present American policy toward the Near Eastern problem.

At the navy department it was said that so far as the Washington government had been advised, Admiral Long was on board his flagship, the Battleship Utah, either at Lisbon or on the way to Gibraltar, where the Utah is due on October 3. He has planned to go to Constantinople later, however, but only for the purpose of observing conditions and co-operating with Red Admiral Bristol in relief work.

The state department likewise was without official notification of any change in previous plans regarding the disposition of American warships in European waters, and it was said that the policy of this government to confine its near eastern activities to relief measure remained unaltered.

PARADE FEATURE OF G. A. R. CONVENTION; CAMP FIRE TONIGHT

Veterans Passed in Review; Auxiliary Organizations Meet.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 27.—After today's great annual parade, veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, who are holding their fifty-sixth annual encampment here, planned to take advantage of an afternoon with no scheduled activities to rest from the weariness of the march, and of two preceding days of unwonted liveliness. All the veterans, however, expected to be restored by the relaxation in time for participation in the annual camp fire, to be held tonight. Past Commanders and present officers of the G. A. R. state officials and others will address the vets.

General Lewis S. Pilcher of Brooklyn, N. Y., Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army, will deliver his only address to the public at tonight's meeting. He will be followed by Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, who participated with him in the morning review. Special music for the occasion will be furnished by the Ladies' Colonial Glee Club who will wear period costumes.

Auxiliaries Meet.
While the vets rest during the afternoon, the allied organizations will begin their business activities, and ritualistic exercises will be held by several of the orders.

The Woman's Relief Corps, which opened its activities today with a breakfast honoring the present and past national presidents at national headquarters, was addressed later, in the day by Mrs. Agnes H. Parker of Boston, national president, following which flag presentations and memorial services were held.

Ladies of the Grand Army will open their business session at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. Anna M. Mitchner of Philadelphia presiding. National officers will be elected tomorrow. The Sons of Veterans also will start their encampment business today. A memorial service and a reception to Commander-in-Chief Clifford Ireland of Washington, D. C., are scheduled for the Sons of Veterans' program for tonight. The Sons of Veterans' auxiliary also went into business sessions today and will unite with the parent organization in its other activities today.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 27.—Mrs. J. C. Tolbert, who shot and killed Matt Green, an innocent bystander, here Monday, when she was gunning for her husband was exonerated late yesterday by a coroner's jury. The coroner's jury held that the slaying of Green was accidental and that Mrs. Tolbert was justified in trying to end the mortal existence of her husband, who she claimed snored her to the hospital with a broken rib as the result of a beating.
The woman fired at her husband when he drew up in front of their home in an automobile. Green, who was riding with Tolbert, stopped the bullet. He died before reaching a hospital.
Mrs. Tolbert claimed her husband left home declaring that he was going to get a revolver.

Buddies of Prison Meet in Des Moines

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 26.—Fifty-eight years have passed so lightly over the head of the Rev. James Hatch of Sandwich, Illinois, that when H. E. Dewey, attorney of Lead, S. D., met him at the court house yesterday he recognized him instantly as the "Long Jim" Hatch whom he had last seen in Andersonville prison in 1864.

Both are attending this year's annual encampment of the Grand Army and Mr. Dewey is visiting at the home of his son, Ben Dewey, secretary of the Polk County Board of Supervisors.

The recognition was facilitated, Mr. Dewey explained, by the fact that Hatch was not only the tallest member of Company E 36th Ills. Infantry and Dewey the shortest member, but each had been wounded at the battle of Chickamauga, at which time Mr. Hatch had lost an eye and Mr. Dewey had been seriously wounded in the side. They have found three other members of their original company at the encampment.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 26.—Eighteen passenger trains taken off recently by the Big Four railroad because of shortage of coal were today ordered restored by the Illinois Commerce Commission. The trains were cancelled without permission of the commission and are to be restored pending investigation of the order states.

The train service involved affects Mattoon, Mt. Carmel, Danville, Kankakee, Seneca, Vincennes, Ind., St. Francisville, Ind., Indianapolis, St. Louis and Chicago. Numerous complaints have been received by the commission because of the action of the road.

Failed to Select Candidates for New High Court District

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Failing to select candidates for the two additional supreme courtships, as provided by the proposed new constitution, the committee on candidates of the Cook County Bar Association and representatives of the bar association in the four other counties comprising the seventh supreme court district—Will, Lake, Kankakee and DuPage—adjourned late yesterday to reconvene on Saturday.

Under the terms of the Constitution, candidates for the judgeships will be voted for on Tuesday, December 12, the day the new constitution will be submitted to popular vote for approval. One is to represent Cook county as an associate to Judge Orin Carter and the other will be elected by the four remaining counties.

No feature of one's personality contributes so much to passing years as the condition and color of the hair. If treatment and proper care is given in time one could avoid the embarrassing conditions of premature gray, lifelessness, falling and broken hair.

For those whose hair is already gray and wish it restored to its natural shade, use the highest grade dyes and have the most efficient operators do the work.

For those whose hair is in poor condition we give the most efficient treatments. Remember, a woman's hair is her crowning glory. Do not neglect it.

Moving before us in our everyday affairs is the clearest possible demonstration of the vital interdependence of all branches, all lines, of human activity. The drama of commerce which is being enacted, with fundamental economic conditions settling practically to normal, and groups engaged in production and distribution retarding final, permanent readjustment by combat or selfish schemes, depicts in experience that prosperity depends on understanding and co-operation.

Crop reports from most of the agricultural districts indicate that food production will be large this autumn. And if it were exactly true that agriculture is the single source of widespread prosperity, voluminous trade would be a positive certainty.
But would the great harvest be profitable to the farmer if he could not move his crops, or if he could not market them?

The banking reserves are immense, and so are the monetary reserves of corporations and individuals that have liquidated their business. Capital is available to a vast total for all kinds of commercial enterprise and general investment. The financial resources are adequate for record prosperity, but money is not productive unless it is in use, and it is put to use only when conditions are favorable to profit.

The actual source of prosperity is the construction industry, as it is the means of setting millions to work in the mines and in the forests. It requires the raw materials formed or grown by nature. Next, it gives business to mills and factories which finish steel, wood and other materials, and finally it offers employment to skilled mechanics and laborers in constructing buildings, roads and various improvements.

The construction industry contains the most wonderful inherent probabili-ties in the history of the nation's development. There are pregnant indications that construction should continue on a record high level for many years.

The next link in the chain is the buying of goods by producing industries from one another. Machinery, tools and semi-finished materials are needed. And the next link is manufacture of wearing apparel and household goods. And the final links are wholesaling and retailing.

But raw materials and finished goods must be conveyed from producer to consumer. The construction and other industries, like the agricultural, must have transportation.

When the industrial producers are operating there is a buying power of the people for absorbing agricultural products. When the farmers are producing raw materials for food and clothing, labor is able to live and be efficient.

Capital, industry, labor, agriculture and transportation are interdependent.
They must co-ordinate to realize prosperity. When all are active and cooperating prosperity is complete. Let's get busy!

BELGIUM GIVES RELIEF TO GERMANY.

Belgium stood the brunt of German ferocity in the world war. The bloody invader levied murder, destruction and tribute on the brave people of this little nation. If any government had warrant in fact for taking vengeance on Germany, Belgium would.

The courage which Belgium exhibed during the war is outshone, or nearly outshone, by the magnanimity which impelled moderation in regard to reparations. Rather than wreck Germany financially and industrially, and thereby imperil the peace and stability of Europe, Belgium accepted

German government notes in lieu of gold as a reparations adjustment.

Lloyd George drew attention some time ago to the fact that Germany and Russia territorially were two-thirds of Europe. Necessarily, Europe has a vital interest in putting Germany on its feet, economically and politically, so as to stave off a new war or disturbance and hasten commercial prosperity.

It seems to be impossible to extend relief or help to Russia, soviet governed, socialist and bankrupt. The situation can be steadied by steadying the republican administration in Germany.

THE HEARTY BREAKFAST.

American physicians, as reported by the Medical Review of Reviews, are heartily in favor of a hearty breakfast for "brain-workers and persons in sedentary occupations." And means a hearty breakfast for everybody, because the others will take care of the matter without any medical advice.

The inquiry covered forty-six states and included several hundred doctors.
Of those heard from 73 percent voted for the big breakfast, 14 percent were neutral and only 13 percent opposed it.
That ought to settle the question for those who have faith in the medical profession.

"The system, like a furnace," explains a well-nourished physician, "is low in the morning and needs a good-sized meal." To the average American that sounds reasonable. A full breakfast and a light lunch are far better for an office worker or professional man, says this big medical majority, than a light breakfast and a heavy lunch. Any brain-worker who regularly finds himself starving about 11
a. m. and dopy all afternoon from his noon meal ought to agree.

Here, then, is the knell of doom for the vaunted "continental breakfast" of a roll and a cup of coffee, as far as its application to America is concerned.
And we may go further. Is it not evident that the continental breakfast is one of the main things wrong with Europe, and has been right along? Is not America big and strong and energetic and capable precisely because Americans have always been in the habit of stowing away a square meal before they tackled the day's work?
When they stop that we may sink to Europe's level.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.

Miss Neyssa McMein, illustrator, has selected twelve women who, according to her womanly judgment and artistic discrimination, are the most beautiful in America. Like choosing the twelve greatest men and the twelve greatest women, it is a preposterous conclusion.

The twelve ladies mentioned by Miss McMein are the twelve of her acquaintance who appeal to her as the most beautiful. They are Miss Mc-Mein's twelve most beautiful American women. Eight of them are actresses, two are dancers, and two are society women.

Actresses, dancers and society women are, in a fair and kindly sense, professional beauties. It is their duty, or to their interest, to cultivate their natural charms, so as to be as admirable as possible. They learn how to make their beauty of appearance impressive. And, as they are before the public eye, their beauty is exceptionally noticeable and renowned.

But it is when beauty of person is combined with graciousness of heart and culture of mind that it is superlative. Then the pleasing magnetism of natural beauty is softened and enhanced by the internal beauty of spiritual character, which is woman's perfection of enchantment.

FOOD

The world's wheat crop this year will be a whopper, says Department of Agriculture. It will total 3,019,534, 000 bushels. This is about 40,000,000 bushels less than last year, but it's 129,000,000 bushels more than the pre-war average.

Very important figures, to the wheat grower.

For the rest of us, it means that the world in 1923 will become calmer.
That is, provided the food is distributed. Unrest does not go with a full stomach. When the mob overthrew the French monarchy, its cry was "Bread!"

MOVIES

Edward Svoboda, movie agent from Czechoslovakia, says in New York that this country has taken over all the large movie houses and is operating them for the benefit of charity.

Censors over there are tolerant with movies of bathing beauties, but they do prohibit prizefighting films, not wanting the people to become interested in any kind of fighting. In many ways, this new country shows sound intelligence. Watch it.

ers for their crops.

Today's word is SACROSANCT.
It's pronounced sak-ro-sankt, with

It means—sacred, inviolable.
It comes from Latin "sacro-

"sacer," sacred.
It's used like this—"The French say that when they considered their interests in danger from post-war developments, the English pool-poohed their protests, yet these same English want France to agree with them that every British interest ought to be considered sacrosanct."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

A STRANGE RIDE

"How did you ever get here?" cried Nancy.

Flap-Doodle went up to the Beamy Star because he liked to stay in the sky.

And of course he took the Fairy Queen's wand with him.

Nahy and Nick watched him until he disappeared, then Nick said with a sigh, "We'll have to wish ourselves after him."

"Yes," nodded Nancy, "but Flap-Doodle will see us coming and wave his wand and we'll drop into the sea again."

Suddenly they heard a new voice, or rather a voice they hadn't heard for a long, long time.

"Hello, children," said the cheerful voice, "Cheerio—cheerio! Why so glum?"

Who do you s'pose it was, my dears? No other than Mr. Flippity-Flop, a fairy who wore en—or—mus shoes!

"Why, Flippity-Flop, how ever did you get here?" cried Nancy.

"Just take a look at my feet,"

Miss," said Flippity-Flop, "and your question will be answered."
Nick laughed. "And do you still carry as many things in your shoes as you used to?" he asked the fairy-man.

"Nothing but feet now," answered the fairyman soberly. "I emptied my magic shoes before I left home so as to make room for something else. I took out a cooking-stove and a washing-machine, and an apple-butter kettle, and a talking-machine, and—but there! Whatta you s'pose I was making room for?"

"What?" asked Nancy.
"You two children!" declared Flip-pity-Flop. "I heard you say you wanted to go to the Beamy Star without being seen. Hop in and I'll take you up."

Flippity-Flop opened a little flap-patch in each of his toes and the Twins hopped in.

ROYAL SPORT

By Berton Braley

TENNIS has a savor, baseball has a thrill.
Golf possesses magic when it's played with proper skill.
But all of them seem pallid, and all of them seem tame,
When stacked against the glory of the truly Royal Game;
I tremble like a jelly, and I holler like a kid,
When twenty-two young giants get out upon the grid!

I LOVE to watch the pigskin when it's booted with a thud,
I love to see the scrimmages of heaping in the mud.
And there's no panorama that has ever been unveiled
Like watching some young Lochinvar go through a broken field;
My ecstasy boils over, I cannot keep it hid,
When twenty-two behemoths are battling on the grid.

THE crowds that shriek and thunder, the pennants all aflare,
The youth that chants its slogans forever, blithe and brave,
The strength and grit and spirit of backfield and of line,
That battle for their colleges with courage high and fine;
Oh, it's the game triumphant, all other sports amid,
When twenty-two leviathans are tearing up the grid!

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well.

CARE OF THE EYES

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

By Dr. R. H. Bishop
The color of the eyes depends on the degree of pigmentation of the iris.

Black eyes are most highly pigmented, brown eyes come next, blue eyes next and the least pigmented eye is that of the Albino. Here the iris is almost colorless. It admits light excessively; hence an Albino is always sensitive to bright light.
Nor can a blue-eyed person endure light as well as one with dark eyes.

Foreign bodies in the eyes should be removed, if possible, by washing with warm natural salt solution (a level tablespoon of salt dissolved in a pint of freshly boiled water.) With this the eyeball may be washed freely. If this fails a bit of soft cloth, moistened with the solution, may be used.

Never use wooden or metal objects.

Granulated eyelids occur essentially in very contagious and sometimes even leads to partial or total blindness. The use of the common towel is probably responsible for its spread. The lining of the lids look granulated and rough. The lids edges look gummy. The upper lids seem to droop. The eyes are sensitive to light, and run water.

Treatment must be vigorous, preferably in a hospital, for a time at least, under the care of a qualified nurse.

Injuries to the eyes in early life, leaving some unnoticed defect of vision, are a common cause of the development of eye-strain later in life.

Be careful not to work in a glare of light, or in a position which exposes the eyes to a direct light.

If you have any eye defect, or suspicion of one, waste no time in having your eyes examined and glasses fitted to correct that defect.

A man does not always say what he thinks because it is not proper to cuss before ladies.

CELEBRATE INSULL'S THIRTIETH BIRTHDAY WITH COM.-EDISON

Head of Dixon Company Has Splendid Record of Progress.

A dinner commemorating his thirtieth anniversary with the Commonwealth Edison Company was given Samuel Insull, its president, by officials of the company at the University Club, Wednesday evening, Sept. 26.

As guests with Mr. Insull were 29 others of the company's family who have been in the service an equal number of years; seven of them, 35 years or more.

Louis A. Ferguson, Vice President in charge of construction and operation of the Commonwealth Edison Company, whose employment dates back to 1888, was toastmaster. John F. Gilchrist, Vice President in charge of purchasing and stores, who has been with the company since 1887, told of the remarkable change that the city has undergone electrically in that period. Mr. Insull made a short talk telling of his 30 years of service.

The dinner was not only an anniversary celebration, but also a "welcome home" to Mr. Insull from his ten-weeks' vacation in Europe.

Mr. Insull came to Chicago in 1892 to become president of the Chicago Edison Company, predecessor of the present Commonwealth Edison Company. He had previously—1881 to 1892—been associated with Thomas A. Edison, first as his private secretary and later as head of his manufacturing enterprises. He resigned as Vice President of the General Electric Company to come to Chicago.

For two years prior to becoming actively associated with Thomas A. Edison in this country Mr. Insull had been private secretary to Colonel George E. Guerdon in England. The latter was in charge of the Edison telephone interests in that country and Mr. Insull acted as the amateur telephone operator in the first experimental telephone exchange in that country.

At the time Mr. Insull came to Chicago to take charge of the Chicago

Edison Company, only 4,300 residences and stores had electricity either for light or power. In contrast, today the Commonwealth Edison Company has 576,000 customers. In the year 1892 only 10,300,000 kilowatt hours of electricity were generated in the city. Last year the total was 1,328,271,000 kilowatt hours, and the Commonwealth Edison Company had become the world's largest electricity supply company, with the city's population having a greater amount of electric light and power at its disposal than any other city in the world. Mr. Insull is also president of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company, with head offices in this city.

HORNSBY MAY SMASH SEVERAL LEAGUE RECORDS

May Be First Batter in .400 Class in 23 Seasons.

New York, Sept. 26.—Besides the probability that he will succeed Babe Ruth as this year's home run king, Rogers Hornsby, brilliant second sacker of the St. Louis Cardinals, has an excellent chance of winning additional laurels by being the first National League batsman in 23 years to finish the season with an average of .400 or better.

Hornsby's unofficial mark today was .401 and at the clip he has been hitting of late the Cardinal star should have little difficulty in maintaining or improving this mark in the few remaining games on the schedule. His log today showed 133 runs and 242 hits for 143 games.

Ed. Deleahanty, of the old Philadelphia club, was the last National League to wind up the season with an average over .400. His figure was .408 in 1893. Prior to that the select circle of .400 hitters included Willie Keeler, Adrian C. (Doc) Anson, Jesse Burkett, Hugh Duffy and Ross Barnes.

Since its start in 1900, the American League has produced three .400 hitters, Nap Lajoie, Ty Cobb and George Sisler. Cobb reached the coveted mark in 1911 and 1912, while Sisler is likely to improve by a considerable margin this year his figure of .407, made in 1920.

ors, Hornsby, with 42 to his credit, has a lead of three over his nearest rival, Kenneth Williams of the St. Louis Browns, while Ruth has 35, with only four more games in which to boost his total.

Marriage License 107 Years Old is Interesting Relic

Rock Island, Ill.—A marriage license 107 years old is in possession of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones of Rock Island. It announces the marriage of Mr. Jones grandparents, Martin Jones and Margaret Hutton, over a century ago in what is now Sangamon county. The marriage took place Nov. 28, 1815, in a fort near the present site of the state capital.

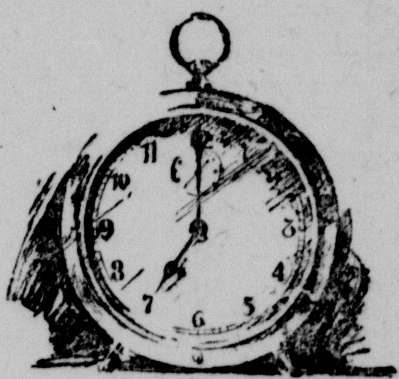

The old license is written in English script, and bears the seal of John Springer, justice of the peace. The wording is as follows:

"Notis is hear by given that there is a maried intended between Martin Jones and Margaret Hutton on the 28 day of November, 1815, given under my hand and seal the 23 day of November 1815."

Instant Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

You Can Sleep

Longer now, if you wish

Quaker Oats now comes in two styles, identical in quality and flavor.

Our experts have perfected Instant Quaker Oats—the quickest cooking oats in the world. It cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes, and it cooks to perfection.

Now your oat dish can be ready, if you wish, before the eggs or coffee.

Now two great supremacies

Now Quaker Oats in two ways excel any other oats in existence. Long ago their flavor won the world. It has made Quaker Oats the dominant brand wherever oats lovers live.

Quaker is flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats. We get but ten pounds from a bushel, but those ten pounds are the finest oats that people ever get.

Now comes quick cooking. Instant Quaker is flaked from the same queen grains. But the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

If you want exquisite flavor you must get Quaker Oats. If you want five-minute cooking you must get them. Get either or both, as you like. But get Quaker always if you want this dish delightful.

BASE HITS

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Free from pennant worries after one of the most strenuous campaigns in their career, the New York Giants, the 1922 National League champions, wound up the battle against western opposition by taking the final game of the series from the St. Louis Cardinals, 6 to 3, behind Artie Nehf's steady twirling.

It was the third defeat in four games for the team which threatened the Giant's supremacy for a large share of the season, and showed the Cardinals back to fourth place, while Cincinnati, trouncing Philadelphia, 15-8, climbed to third position.

Indication that Nehf has been practically recovered from the effects of a foot injury which checked his effectiveness earlier in the season was regarded as an important factor in the Giant's world series chances.

The southpaw held the heavy hitting Cardinals scoreless in all but two innings and exhibited perfect control. Nehf, although beaten twice by Waite Hoyt of the Yankees in last year's series, twirled brilliantly both times and in his third start turned in the deciding victory by trimming the "Boy Wonder" in the eighth game, 1-0.

The Giants play a double header today with Philadelphia at the Polo Grounds, and McGraw plans to call on his reserve forces after giving the regulars a brief workout.

The Yankees, within a game of clinching the American League title, hope to settle the race beyond all doubt by winning from Boston in a three game series with the Red Sox. They held a lead of three and one-half games over the St. Louis Browns and with only four more contests to play, need only a single victory to eliminate the mathematical uncertainty yet existing.

Dazzy Vance achieved his eighteenth victory of the season while Brooklyn pounded two Boston twirlers to win, 12-5, in the other major league game played yesterday.

Nine home runs in the three games played brought the season's total for both leagues to 1,028, close to 100 more than last year's record crop of 937 circuit blows.

The Pirates tried their luck in the Tiger's lair at Detroit and met another turnback. The exhibition game may keep Ty Cobb out of the remaining games of the season. The Tiger manager was hit on the leg by a pitched ball and had to be carried off the field.

The Braves sent their regular outfield into action for the first time since May, but were unable to stop the Dodgers, Bert Griffith leading the attack with four hits in five times at bat.

Home runs by Cunningham and Groh helped the Giants win from St. Louis. During the Giants rally in the fifth inning, Pitcher Haines of the Cardinals became incensed when taken out and threw the ball over the grand stand roof.

Chief of Police of Rock Island Ousted for 30-Day Period

Rock Island, Ill., Sept. 26.—Chief Thomas Cox of the Rock Island police department was suspended for period of not exceeding 30 days by the commissioners of the Fire and Police board last night when he admitted that the department is in a demoralized condition and said his orders have been disobeyed by patrolmen and officers during the past six months.

The chief was called before the board for the purpose of being questioned as to the events of the night of July 31, when William Gabel, local saloonkeeper, was shot and killed. Movements of the police on that night have recently been investigated and found to be questionable.

NEW FOOT BALL RULE APPLIES TO SCORE AT GOAL

Some Fans Puzzled By New Play in Sunday's Game.

Many football fans who saw the Dixon Legion-Beloit game last Sunday did not fully understand the new football rule which does away with the try for goal after touchdown. Fifth teams must now line up for scrimmage any distance outside the five yard line after the touchdown has been made. Any play, whether it be by line plunge, forward pass, end run, drop kick, or place kick, which puts the ball across the line or bar, counts as one point.

This makes the score after a touchdown much more difficult but it gives the better team on defense an opportunity to prevent this extra point. Knowing this, the spectator is on the lookout to know just what kind of a play the contesting coach will attempt. Last Sunday the Legion tried three place kicks after scoring a touchdown. Riskey making good on one attempt. Fans thus far have not been enthusiastic in praising the change in rules, but doubtless when they get accustomed to it will think it all well and good.

Juneau, Wis., Sept. 26.—Harrison Hebeck, a town of Powell farmer, raised $10,875 from 80 acres of white clover seed, it was announced today. He harvested 500 bushels, which sold for $21.75 a bushel, an average of 6.25 bushels per acre. This is one of the largest yields of white clover ever reported in Dodge county.

Tampico, Ill., Sept. 26.—Robbers entered the Tampico postoffice sometime between 1 and 2 o'clock last night, blew the safe and took everything in the strong box except two pennies. Postmaster Elliott Temple refuses to divulge the amount taken until postal inspectors have checked the contents of the safe.

Three-Mile Limit Upheld By Cabinet

Washington, Sept. 26.—The cabinet at its meeting today decided to restrict prohibition enforcement operations within the three mile limit at sea, except in cases where ships beyond that limit are in communication with shore through their own crews and small boats. Prohibition enforcement officials, it was said, will be cautioned to observe this decision.

The subject of searches for contraband liquor beyond the three mile limit formed the principal topic of discussion before the cabinet. Examination of municipal law authorizing customs or other operations up to the twelve mile limit were found by the president's advisors to be out of harmony with international law, and it was held that attempts to carry out the municipal law provisions might involve the government in embarrassments with other countries.

Lanyard sat up and took intelligent notice of the room. Phinuit chuckled, and consulted Monk in the tone of one reasonable man to his peer.

"It's plain to be seen he wants those jewels—means to have 'em. Do you know any way we can keep them from him?"

Monk moved his head slowly from side to side: "None."

"Then you agree with me, it would save us all a heap of trouble to let him have them without any more stalling?"

Monk quietly opened a false door in a pedestal of his desk. Lanyard could hear the spinning of a combination manipulated by Monk's long and bony fingers. And presently he saw Monk straighten up with a sizable steel dispatch-box in his hands, place this upon the desk, and unlock it with a key on his pocket ring.

"There," he announced with an easy gesture.

Lanyard rose and stood over the desk, investigating the contents of the dispatch-box. The collection of magnificent stones seemed to tally accurately with his mental memoranda of the description furnished by Eve de Montalais.

"This seems to be right," he said quickly, and closed the box. The automatic lock snapped fast.

"Now what do you say, brother dear?"

"Your debt to me is fully discharged, Liane. What is to prevent me from going ashore with these at once?"

"Nothing," said Phinuit, "but your own good sense."

"Ah!" said Lanyard—"ah!"—and looked from face to face.

"Do understand I am to consider myself your prisoner?"

"Oh, dear, no!" said Captain Monk, inexpressibly pained by such crudity. Consider favorably an invitation to be our honored guest on the voyage to New York?"

Lanyard thought the matter over a little.

"Obviously, it would seem, you have not gone to all this trouble—lured me aboard this yacht—merely to amuse yourselves at my expense and then knock me on the head."

"Absurd!" Liane declared indignantly. "As if I would permit such a thing, who owe you so much?"

"Or look at it this way, monsieur," Monk put in with a courtly gesture: "When one has an adversary whom one respects, one wisely prefers to have him where one can watch him."

"More than that," said Liane with her most killing glance for Lanyard: "a dear friend."

But Lanyard was not to be put off by fair words and flattery.

"No," he said gravely: "but there is some deeper motive..."

He sought Phinuit's eyes, and Phinuit unexpectedly gave him an open-faced return.

"There is," he stated frankly.

"Then why not tell me?"

"All in good time."

With characteristic abruptness Liane Delorme announced that she was sleeping. It had been for her a most fatiguing day. Captain Monk rang for the stewardess and gallantly escorted the lady to her door.

Lanyard got up with Phinuit to bow her out, but instead of following her suit he helped himself to a long whisky and soda.

"I'm afraid you've got a tendency to overestimate the gullibility of people in general," remarked Phinuit. "Why this funny story of yours about wanting to get hold of the Montalais loot simply to slip it back to its owner?"

Lanyard felt a spasm of anger constrict his throat. Nevertheless his courteous smile persisted.

"I presume, Captain Monk, it's not too late to send a note ashore."

CHAPTER XIX

The Face in the Dark

IN the early days of the voyage, Lanyard felt confident of outwitting his companions, but was unable to evolve a satisfactory plan to secure the jewels.

Not that he made the mistake of despising those two social malcontents, Phinuit and Jules, that rogue adventurer Monk, that grasping courtesan, Liane Delorme.

Lanyard accounted that quartet uncommonly clever, resourceful, audacious, unscrupulous, and potentially ruthless, utterly callous to compunctions when their interests were jeopardized.

There are no taxes of any kind in the island of Alderney.

In England the adoption of children cannot legally be secured.

But it was inconceivable that he should fail to outwit and frustrate them, who had the love and faith of Eve de Montalais to honor, cherish, and requite.

Trying to put himself in Liane's place, Lanyard believed that he could never have neglected the opportunity to steal away from Paris while he slept and leave him to gnaw his nails in the mortification of defeat. Why she had not done so, why she had permitted Monk and Phinuit to play their comedy of offering him the jewels, passed understanding.

But Lanyard felt assured Liane would not keep him waiting long for enlightenment as to her intentions.

Lanyard spent his hours studying the Sybarite and particularly the chief engineer, Mr. Mussey, a heavy drinker, untidy about his person and exacting about his engine-room, a veteran of his trade and—

One night at dinner Liane Delorme appeared in a sumptuous toilette that would have made its mark on the beach of Deauville.

The woman looked years younger than when Lanyard had last seen her. Nobody would ever have believed her a day older than twenty-five, no one, that is to say, who had not watched youth ebb from her face as Lanyard had when he told her of the death of De Lorgnes.

Later that night, on deck, pressure of a hand upon his own roused Lanyard to discover that Liane Delorme had seated herself beside him.

"I must have been dreaming," he said, apologetic. "You startled me."

"One could see that, my friend."

The woman spoke in a quiet accents and let her hand linger upon his with its instant reminder of the warm, living presence.

"It is that one grows bored, eh, cher ami?"

"Perhaps, Liane."

"Or perhaps that one's thoughts are constantly at the Chateau de Montalais?"

"It amuses you, then, to shoot arrows into the air?"

"But naturally, I seek the reason, when I see you distract and am conscious of your neglect."

"I think it is for me to complain of that! Always you are with your two companions; always I am alone."

"Do you imagine for an instant that I class you with such riffraff?"

"And who am I that you should hold me in higher rating than any other man?"

"You should know I do," the woman breathed, so low he barely caught the words.

"Think what I owe to you, Michael; and then consider this, that of all men whom I have known you alone have never asked for love."

He gave a quiet laugh. "There is too much humility in my heart."

"No," she said in a dull voice—"but you despise me. Do not deny it!" She shifted impatiently in her chair.

"I cannot hope to escape my fate!"

"But one imagines nobody can escape his fate."

"Men such as you, rare as you are, know how to cheat destiny; but women never. It is my fate to have learned too late to love you, Michael."

"Ah, Liane, Liane!"

"But you hold me in too much contempt to be willing to recognize the truth."

"On the contrary, I admire you extremely, I think you are an incomparable actress."

"You see!" She offered a dispairing gesture to the stars. "It is not true what I say? I lay bare my heart to him, and he tells me that I act!"

"But my dear girl! surely you do not expect me to think otherwise?"

"I was a fool to expect anything from you," she returned bitterly—"you know too much about me."

Divided between annoyance and distaste, he was silent. And all at once she threw herself half across the joined arms of their chairs, catching his shoulders with her hands, so that her half-clad body rested on his bosom, and its scented warmth assailed his senses with the seduction whose power she knew so well.

SHERIFF BANNING TO TAKE POSITION WITH BURLINGTON

Ogle County Officer in Police Dept. of Big Railroad.

ROCHELLE.—James Adair has resigned his position on the city police force to accept a position as motorcycle policeman, an appointment offered him by the Ogle County Board of Supervisors. He will patrol the 17 miles of the Lincoln Highway in DeKalb and Platte counties, Ogle county, co-operating with the motor cops of Lee and DeKalb counties. This sector of the highway has been reported as dangerous to the state department.

The volume of traffic on the Lincoln Highway is large. Five hundred automobiles passed over the highway at the intersection of the highway and Lincoln avenue Sunday, within an hour, and 160 passed a point near Creston on Labor Day in the same interval.

Motor laws will be rigidly enforced and criminals using the highway as their path of escape brought to justice.

If you desire "Quality Coal" service this winter, now is the time to let me know about it. It is my ambition to give every customer "what he wants, the way he wants it, and when he wants it," but due to conditions beyond my control this is a season with serious possibilities ahead of us.

Winter is near. Can you recall the terrible railroad and traffic tieup in the past, during heavy snowstorms? Do you realize that there is an unprecedented car shortage right now and, as a result, coal mines are working only 2 1/2 days per week on an average? Also it is nationally recognized that railroad facilities are inadequate. And the railroad strike is not settled. Permanent CASH customers have my first consideration, and rightfully so. However, unless you tell me you are with me, I may have to give your place to somebody else. Order now.

NEW CUSTOMERS INVITED

Place orders now—first come, first served. I will do my best, but if you do not give me fair notice by ordering now, do not be unreasonable if I cannot serve you when winter comes, because I will be inclined to favor those who become steady customers now and who appreciate that a permanent connection with me means Quality Coal, Full Weight and Service.

FULL WEIGHT

Don't be too quick to decide on price alone. Coal is like eggs. Today's paper says: "Fresh Eggs 30c; dirty and checked eggs 21c." Would you order eggs on price? Coal is good, bad and indifferent. Freight rates vary according to distances.

I did not charge unreasonable prices during the past. I won't now. I buy the highest quality coal produced in only the best mining districts. My prices to you are fair for Quality Coal, positively full weight and service.

Think Dairyman of Bloomington Beat It

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 26.—In a letter received here today by a local grain dealer, police believe that they have a clue to the mysterious disappearance of E. J. Leman, local dairyman, who was last seen at an early hour Sunday morning.

The letter, though dated last Friday, was postmarked at 8:30 this morning. This seems to strengthen the theory of the police that no one is responsible for his disappearance save himself.

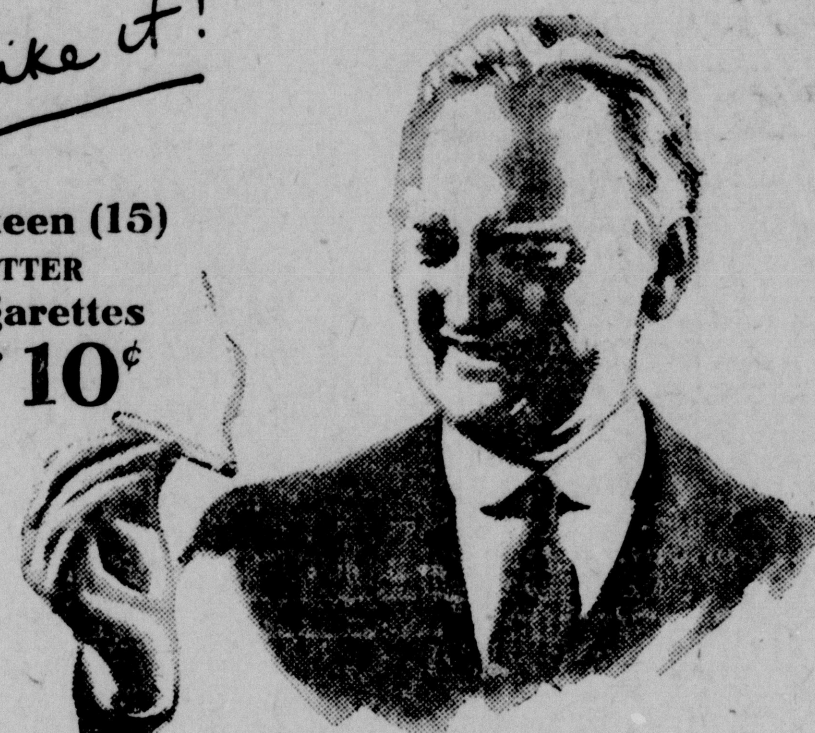

This and the discovery that the bloody spot on the automobile was nothing more than paint coupled with the fact that Leman had closed all his bank accounts in the city had led the police to believe that he had left town owing to financial straits in which he had been involved owing to the fact that his dairy burned down a short time ago and the insurance he carried on it was but a slight amount of the value of the plant.

Everybody Worked But Father

"Father's stomach trouble seemed to be getting worse all the time and finally he had to quit work altogether. Two brothers and myself gave up school and went to work to support the family. Father had lost sixty pounds in weight and was yellow as saffron and no medicine helped him. Telling a friend about it six months ago, she advised taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I got a bottle and it helped father at once. He was able to go back to work a month later, has regained his weight and strength and eats like a wood chopper." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists.—Adv.

Commission to Deal on American-German Claims is Completed

Washington, Sept. 26.—Edwin S. Parker, an attorney of New York and Houston, Texas, has been appointed by President Harding to be the American commissioner on the American-German claims commission. It was announced today at the state department.

The selection of Mr. Parker completes the personnel of the commission which the state department recently announced would hold its first meeting in Washington on October 10. The President several weeks ago announced the appointment of Associate Justice Day of the United States Supreme Court as the umpire of the commission and the German government, shortly after the war, designated Dr. Kieselbach, an attorney of Hamburg, as its representative on the commission.

American Riflemen Again World Champ

Washington, Sept. 26.—American riflemen have won another world's championship, defeating a picked British team for the Dewar Trophy, emblematic of the small bore championship of the world, according to advices to the National Rifle Association from Camp Perry, Ohio.

The American team shot the match at Camp Perry, while the British shot at a range in England. Similar targets were used under similar conditions. The rifles were of 22 calibre. The American score was 7653 out of a possible 8,000. The British was 7,649, a close mark. Only the two teams shot this year although in other years Canada and Australia have also competed. The United States has now won the match for six years in succession. This year's American team was composed of the twenty best men shooting at the national matches at Camp Perry.

Serious Fires in Constantinople Are Gotten Under Control

Constantinople, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The fire which broke out in Constantinople shortly after 10 o'clock last night, causing tense anxiety and news that an attempt was being made to burn the capital was controlled after a fight of two hours.

The blaze originated from an unknown cause in the Pyntania Meuse Hall, in upper Pera Street, one of the main thoroughfares. The audience was stamped, terror stricken. So far as could be ascertained there was no loss of life.

Small fires which started simultaneously in other parts of the city, accentuated the fears in many quarters that the oft-repeated threats of incendiarism were being carried out.
